To Whom It May Concern

I am very pleased to recommend Fedi, who worked with us as an intern on Flutter development and data projects. During his time here, he showed great dedication, a strong ability to learn new technologies quickly, and excellent problem-solving skills. Fedi consistently delivered high-quality work, contributed positively to team discussions, and was always eager to take on new challenges. He is reliable, hardworking, and demonstrates a strong interest in improving his skills and knowledge. I am confident that Fedi will succeed in any future role he chooses and will be a valuable member of any team.

Best regards,
